

Jennifer Driscoll is a Healthcare Strategy Consultant with over eighteen years of continually expanding responsibility as an executive healthcare strategist and consultant serving in various capacities across New England. In her most recent leadership role, she led her organization's community benefit program and actively partnered with other non-profit organizations in the region and the state to collaboratively plan to meet community need and report on community outcomes.

Jennifer specializes in assisting organizations in fulfilling their charitable mission by aligning their community need assessment with their organizational strategy. Her focus is on the 'intent' of the law vs compliance with the law, taking Community Benefit from a 'must do' for the IRS to a 'should do' as a non-profit organization. Compliance with the law is step one, using the information to drive change in the community is where Jennifer thrives.

Jennifer is a strong communicator, public speaker, teacher and facilitator for diverse audiences. She is an influential and articulate leader recognized and respected as a valuable and insightful industry strategist.

Her services include:

- ✓ Engaging and educating leaders at the Board and Executive level on the importance of Community Benefit Planning and its role in organizational strategy
- ✓ Assessing organizational readiness to embed Community Benefit into organizational strategy
- ✓ Assisting organizations in developing strategies to address Community Need
- ✓ Assisting organizations in implementing Community Benefit Strategies
- ✓ Identifying and cultivating collaboration opportunities with other local or state non-profits

Jennifer is flexible in working with your organization and can serve on a contract or an as needed basis.
